

The Communication Challenge

The Communications Challenge is a superbly creative activity that covers all aspects of effective communication.

As every client has different requirements, this is an activity that continuously flexes, changes and develops in line with customer need.

We start by finding out which aspects of your Communication process need addressing. These include amongst others:

- Speech Making
- Pitching & Selling
- Interviewing Techniques
- Performance Review
- Telephony Skills
- Presenting to Camera
- Report Writing / Presentations

Within each communication discipline we then focus on a vast range of skills and techniques including: energy, physical space, status, tone, inflection, use of visual aides, humour, eye contact, audience management, breathing, self belief, use of notes, jargon, body language, posture, creative style, research, script development and so the list goes on!

Each Communications challenge can last for a half or full day and can be sewn into a conference or meeting agenda. Elements from the challenge can be used piecemeal throughout a day as energisers, fire starters and session shakers.

We use video playback, voice recording and data projectors to enhance the process and the outputs are simply outstanding. It's also great fun!
